

Adolf Hitler Speech 1924

In 1924 at a Christian gathering in Berlin, Adolf Hitler, a professed Christian, stood before thousands of Christians, and with a standing ovation said:

"I believe that today I am acting in accordance with the will of Almighty God. As I announce the most important work that Christians could undertake and that is to be against the Jews and get rid of them once and for all. We are doing the work of the Lord and let's get on with it. Hitler stated, Martin Luther has been the greatest encouragement of my life. Luther was a great man. He was a giant. Within one blow he heralded the coming of the new dawn and the new age. He saw clearly that the Jews need to be destroyed and we're only beginning to see that we need to carry this work on. Hitler followed to the letter, Luther's treatise on how to exterminate the Jews.

Martin Luther preached his last sermon avidly against the Jews and died four days later.

Indeed, Nazi leader Striker at his Nuremberg trial stated, "I have never said anything that Martin Luther did not say"
